

WESTERN KAS. WORLD.

W. S. TILTON, Editor.
SATURDAY, AUGUST 8, 1885.

THE remains of General Grant reached New York city at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

THIS is the burial day of General Grant. The public demonstration, it is fair to assume, will surpass in numbers any which has ever been made in favor of any person in the history of the modern world.

—The normal institute is three-fourths out.

—Complaints against base-ball playing on the Sabbath begin to accumulate.

—Some regular troops passed west on a mixed railroad train yesterday forenoon.

—It's an odd night here now when the lightning don't flash all over the face of the country.

—Our people seem to be united on the proposition that cherries can be grown here with ease.

—The G. A. R. Post at Ellis will hold Grant memorial services at their hall at 2 o'clock p. m. to-day.

—A heavy rain shower came along last Monday night. The night was one of violent atmospheric agitation.

—Mrs. W. T. Hunter has sold her residence on Railroad avenue to—well, we have not heard his name.

—Mr. Ewalt has one apple in his orchard this summer. It is not very large, but its health is said to be good.

—D. H. Morgan, we see by the Pioneer, has been employed to teach the Buffalo school. David is a brother of rollicking John.

—Sheriff Baker attended the state convention of sheriffs at Topeka on Tuesday. He was made one of the thirteen directors of that body.

—The ten hours' lateness of the Colorado express train a week ago last night resulted from the washing out of a bridge near Brookville.

—P. C. Hughes, a land attorney at Larned, gave this office a pleasant call on Tuesday. He is paying particular attention to the June, 1880, final-proof business.

—G. W. Brown and family, who went in May last from here to Lyon county to take up their residence, are back here to stay. Brown says crops are not healthy down there like they are here.

—G. W. Poorman and Miss Kate Young were married last Saturday evening at Buffalo Park by Rev. J. Q. A. Weller. Both of them are type slingers on the Pioneer at that place.

—Prof. Pilkenton's singing geography exercise, Thursday evening, for the edification of the normal institute, had a big lot of auditors, and took a good deal like wildfire in a silk-grass meadow.

—Mr. T. R. Moore, railway station agent at this place, is prepared to receive contributions to the fund to be created for the erection of a monument to General Grant, and will receipt for them.

—Mr. S. R. Cowick, a lawyer of Tarkio, in northwest Missouri, was here a portion of the early part of the week. He expects to locate here in the course of a few weeks to engage in the practice of his profession.

—It is well enough to give straggling auctioneers and other peddlers a chance to enliven the flow into the city treasury. By consulting an ordinance in this week's WORLD, on the subject, you can see all about it.

—Mr. J. B. Hogan, from Rock Rapids, Iowa, has arrived in town, and he is stationed here as the agent of Close Bros. & Co., land agents. This firm already does an extensive business in Minnesota and Iowa.

—W. R. Minert, traveling land agent for the A. T. & S. F. railway, gave us a call on Tuesday. He reports business brisk in the land trade on the other line, as well as between the roads, in Nees, Rush and other counties.

—It caused the two young bloods who were arrested here toward the latter part of last week by Marshal Frick for drunkenness and disorderly conduct five dollars and costs apiece, and they got a gilt-edge bargain then. One of them drew a pistol on the marshal. Complaint was not made on this point.

—The boys had oodles of fun last Sunday with one or two Arabian beggars who reached the city by the two-hoof route in the afternoon. The boys seemed to take the foreigners for mermaids. They had male costume on their heads and bodies, and a sort of petticoat over the legs, these garments being fastened tightly at the bottom, as well as at the top.

—When the crash came, it sounded a good deal like two brick walls trying to fall through each other. In reality, it was the effect of a great big dry goods box of beer bottles tumbling off a wheelbarrow which some boys were wheeling on the crosswalk just east of Scott's drug store yesterday morning. Many of the bottles were broken in the catastrophe, and this fact, united with the extra work and excitement, warned the freighters under the collars.

—Drunkenness should not be encouraged on the streets, even if it is on Sunday, when a fellow is not presumed to have any great quantity of hard work on hand. One hint to the really wise is as good as a whole page.

—Geo. Galloway did put up the windmill at the Terrill waterworks source at Millbrook. We hear that while the spring holds out to flow about four barrels of water can be caught hourly at the end of the pipe down in town.

—Chaplain Parker, of Fort Hays, was a welcome caller at this office Tuesday afternoon. He is a gentleman of education, refinement and Christian spirit. The position which he holds affords ample scope for the gratification of all these traits.

—Shoot now, if you want to contribute all the way from one dollar to twenty dollars to the coffers of Wa-Keeney city. This is the size of the ordinance on the subject, which becomes law by being published in the WESTERN KANSAS WORLD of this week.

—Osborn, Monroe and Henkel have just a little the most majestic-looking buggy horse which we have seen owned in Wa-Keeney. They purchased him of J. R. Vancil, who has recently come to this county from the county of Saline, in this state.

—The regular annual meeting for the election of school officers is to take place next Thursday. Considerable interest is felt concerning the result in this district. In the meantime, it should be remembered vividly that they who do not attend the meeting will have no moral right to growl at its decisions. The employment of teachers for the new year and the amount of the annual school tax levy are questions which should secure the general attendance of parents, guardians and tax-payers at this election.

—The lecture of Professor Parker, Tuesday evening, on Primitive Man in North America, was listened to by a full house. The professor delivered an excellent lecture. He showed that the artificial mounds which are found in so many portions of the great Mississippi valley were not built by Indians, because they are too lazy to do such work. The lecturer contended that those forts, cemeteries, places and emblems of worship, and so on, which are represented by these mounds, are the work of a people so ancient that even Indian tradition is silent respecting them, and who possessed many of the features of our own civilization.

—Another example of the potato-mulching theory has been produced. Mr. J. P. Smith, of the Saline valley, presented to us, last Saturday, a bunch of as large, fine-looking potatoes as you will often see. He explained that he planted eight and a half bushels last spring, and will dig at least 150 bushels. He mulched them a foot and a half deep while planting. He did not have to cultivate them a particle, and bugs have bothered the crop very little. Mr. Smith has tried mulching potatoes for three consecutive years, and, in common with others who have pursued the same course in this section of country, he has been uniformly successful. If you want to run across an enthusiastic advocate of this method of raising potatoes, don't pass Mr. Smith.

Grant Memorial Services.
Commander Caddick has notified us that he desires that the Post meet in a body for the purpose of conducting Grant memorial services. He desires that the Post meet in their room at 10 a. m. to-day (Saturday) to take action in the matter. Mayor Jones requests, through the WORLD, that the business houses in Wa-Keeney be closed between the hours of 1 and 5 o'clock p. m., as an aid to the memorial proceedings on the part of the Post.

Here's the Coffee.
Buffalo Park is on the "boom." A lot has been fenced in—the only improvement in five years.—[D. DEE in WESTERN KANSAS WORLD.]
The writer of the above is evidently a dunder, or as Mark Twain would say: "Nature abhorred a vacuum and filled his head with sawdust, in place of brain." Either this or he has little regard for the truth.—[Buffalo Park Pioneer.]
It begins to look like pistols and coffee for two will be in demand. We will furnish the coffee. Who will be equally generous with the pistols?
—A. F. Tosh has just received a new stock of nickel and mantel clocks. Call and get prices. 336-2
